GRAYLING, MICHIGAN, OCTOBER 16, 1930

NUMBER 43

Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS.—Well all I know is just what I read in the papers. See where Henry Ford is prowling around over in Europe, and he gets tons and tons of mail and he addressed to him as "his Highness Henry Ford." They think he is King over here. Well he is not exactly what you might refer to as one of our mental subjects. Over in a Museum in Berlin they have the first car made in Germany, and perhaps the world, for it was made in 1885, it only had three wheels. It was the "Benz" made by Karl Benz. But up to going to press he has not been able to get it. Was you ever through that place in Derborn where he has all the old vehicles stored? If you rode in your young days in an old wagon, or sled, or a buggy and have in your old years of reminiscing wondered what became of it it's right in Henry Ford's shed. I never saw in all my born days as much plunder as there is in there. Old thrashing machines, dozens of em. old saw mill engines, old fire engines, Old Handson Cabs. Everything under the sun that ever dragged one person from one place to another is in there, so I can sure imagine how he must have wanted that old crate.

Well Sir before you know it there will be another election along to pester us. What they have those things for nobody has ever been able to tell. It's just to distribute the jobs around so one man won't have it all the time. Most of the men that are in are trying to get in and all that are out are trying to get in. This is what they call an election. What they mean by that is everybody is running but the President.

These old years the Democrats generally make a pretty good showing, and this fall looks like their chance to get a gang of Guys in the Senate and House. Of course they will not set what advantage they have by splitting among themselves, on the wet and dry plan. They will make that an issue when it's only a habit.

Funny race up in Massachusetts. They dug up a fellow named Coolidge, an Irishman, and a Democrat. He used to be Mayor of Pittsburg, along when Calvin was Mayor of Northampton. They claim this fellow is no kin to Calvin. But I know one time up in Vermont I was playing a town, I think it Rutland or somewhere, and in my audience that night, I had been tipped off was a first Cousin of Cal's and he was a Democrat, and he had a lot of fun kidding with him. Met him after wards and he was a dandy fellow. He didn't know how he got stranded from the herd while they were all going orthodox. He (this fellow Coolidge) is running against William Butler, an old friend of Mr. Calvin Coolidge's.

Oh yes and this other Coolidge that's running is a wet! Imagine a wet Coolidge! Nature does produce some queer angles. Don't know if Mr. Coolidge will take the stump to help out his old friend or not. He is still working on his daily Column and can always say he is too busy. He is mighty cheerful and knows how to keep out of these home-talent fights. New York pretty near everybody is running as a wet. Both Republicans and Democrats know there is more wet votes than there is dry ones so they both jump that way. That shows right there that the whole thing is not on the level, for everyone of these public men come out just according to the way the wind is blowing where they live. Now some of them must have some personal opinion that is not just along with the majority of voters all the time.

New Jersey Morrow took a brave stand when it meant something. He wasn't sure he was on the right side or not, but he came out against it. Not that it might have been the right thing to do, but it at least planted him as a man with his own opinion and he was willing to stand by it. But with all the messing and arguing over it at the election it won't mean a thing. Nothing is going to be done about it any more than farm relief, or unemployment relief.

Ohio they got so scared at their convention, they was afraid to do anything, so they just voted as favoring Prosperity and went home. They have a new term now called the "Wens-lers." The Wens-lers are anyone that is afraid to jump either way. They feel that their state is still doubtful and they claim they haven't made up their minds. So from now on you are in for one of the longest and most nonsensical arguments, all over something that they couldn't change if they wanted to. Democrats will make quite a few gains and the West will perhaps make some, but the whole thing will mean nothing in our lives. All we do is just dig up their salary, and they all get the same price, Republican, Democrat, Wet, or Dry. There is no way we can win.

Masons to Lay Cornerstone Friday

GRAND OFFICERS TO AID IN CEREMONY

PUBLIC INVITED. SCHOOL PUPILS TO ATTEND IN BODY

Tomorrow, Friday, October 17th, will be a big day in the history of Masonry in Grayling when the cornerstone of their fine new temple will be laid. For several months this event has been looked forward to with a great deal of expectation and interest.

Past Grand Master Lou B. Winsor of Grand Rapids and five Grand lodge officers will be in attendance. The oration will be given by Mr. Winsor.

The new temple had a late start but workmen have been more than rushing the work and, aided by wonderful weather, have brot the construction work up to the point of laying the cornerstone. With this done the work will continue, hoping and expecting that the building will be enclosed before winter weather sets in.

In celebration of the big event school will be closed Friday afternoon and the children, accompanied by the teachers, will attend in a body. Grayling lodge has had an eventful history, which may be noted from the following report which has been furnished us thru the courtesy of Past Master M. A. Bates. It reads as follows:

A half century ago the Village of Grayling was but a small community but was teeming with the life and energy of its pioneer settlers. Among these settlers came several members of the Masonic craft. Among them were John O. Hadley, who had laid out and platted the village of Grayling, and Dr. G. M. F. Davis, who was the first man elected County Treasurer of Crawford County, and Mr. Hadley being its first prosecuting attorney. These men, together with others of the craft, desiring a home lodge applied for and obtained a dispensation with G. M. F. Davis as the first Worshipful Master. Meetings were held on the second floor of what is now the store of the Grayling Mercantile Co. The lodge, under dispensation, prospered and in due time was granted a Charter by the Grand Lodge and has had a steady normal growth up to the present time.

In the year 1897 this Lodge determined to erect a Lodge home of their own and this so on the site occupied by the present building, this building being destroyed by fire April 19th, 1930.

Under the able leadership of the present Worshipful Master, Carl W. Peterson, good progress has been made toward the completion of the present temple. The cornerstone laying being set for October 17th, 1930.

The value of a fraternal organization such as this is demonstrated by its helpfulness toward the less fortunate and the association of men in fraternal friendship lightens the burdens of active duty.

From the date of the first regular meeting, March 10th, 1891, twenty-eight brothers have been honored by being elected to the office of Worshipful Master, fourteen of whom have entered the celestial Lodge, the home of all good Masons, leaving to us the example of lives well lived and a hope that exists in the hearts of all good Masons.

Star Ladies To Serve Supper. At 8:00 o'clock, after the service of laying of the cornerstone, the ladies of the Eastern Star lodge will provide a banquet for the visitors and any other Masons and their wives who may choose to partake. This will be held in the banquet rooms of the Michelson Memorial church. The banquet is 75 cents per plate.

Grayling Masons are going to have one of the finest temples anywhere in Northern Michigan. The structure is being built of the same kind and color of brick that was used in the construction of the Rialto theatre, which building it joins. The basement will be used for the heating plant and fuel. On the first floor will be the banquet and club rooms and the second floor for lodge purposes. The size of the building is 34x75 feet, dining room will be 33x52 1/2; banquet room 26x62 feet; kitchen 12x26, which will give ample room for nearly every purpose.

Again Grayling citizens are to be congratulated for having here the kind of men that make up the roster of Grayling Lodge F. & A. M. No. 386. The undertaking of building a temple of the magnitude that this one will be is a great undertaking, but the loyalty and love for the order and the pride the members take in it has made this new temple possible.

FALSE RUMORS CORRECTED

Rumors are being circulated that I am elected to the office of Register of Deeds that I will hire someone to do the work for me.

These rumors are nothing more than political propaganda—absolutely false and entirely without foundation. I am seeking this office because I have myself and daughter to support and, if elected expect to spend the required number of hours on duty. Also will give intelligent and efficient service.

My whole life has been spent in Crawford County. Served as postal clerk for four years; had charge of telephone exchange and served two years on village council, and have been a taxpayer for nearly twenty years.

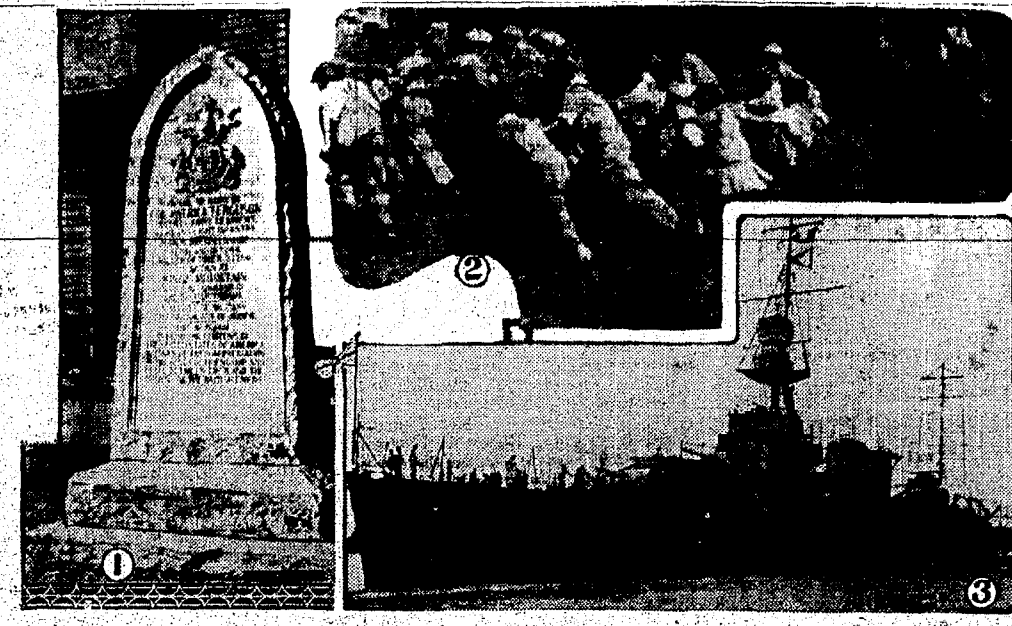

May I have your support on Nov. 4th? It will be duly appreciated.

BOOTLEGGERS PLEAD GUILTY

SEVERAL DIVORCES GRANTED. LA ROCQUE CHANGES PLEA TO GUILTY

The October session of Circuit court that began Tuesday afternoon, concluded its session Wednesday afternoon. Many of the cases appearing on the calendar were disposed of, and some held over the next term.

Two important bootlegger cases—Everette Beach of Grand Rapids and Lloyd A. Witt, Detroit—entered pleas of guilty. Beach was sentenced to confinement in the county jail for thirty days. Witt was sentenced to pay a fine of $250, and in default of such payment be imprisoned in the State reformatory, Ionia, from six months to one year, with the recommendation of the Court of six months.

Witt hasn't paid his fine as yet and will remain in jail until Judge Smith returns here next Monday when, if still not settled, he no doubt will be duly committed to Ionia prison.

Will Foster, charged with assault was dismissed on motion of the prosecutor. Since the examination by Justice court it is reported that evidence was revealed that made it appear that Foster was as much if not more to blame than the man he assaulted—James Fuller. The affair took place on Labor Day at the home of Foster, about nine miles south of Grayling where a number of colored parties were having a picnic. Mr. Nellist, prosecuting attorney, made a thorough examination of the affair and was convinced that the shooting was an accident. He certainly showed good judgment in not prosecuting the case thus saving the taxpayers the cost of a jury trial when he was confident that there was no chance of securing a conviction.

Claud A. LaRoque, charged with violation of the motor vehicle law, changed his plea to guilty. This is a case we understand in which LaRoque was driving one night last fall without lights when the car he was driving struck two young boys, one of whom was killed and the other seriously injured. Mr. LaRoque who resides in Roscommon has been out on his own recognizance since his arrest. He will appear here next Monday before Judge Smith for sentence. This is certainly an unfortunate affair and was purely an accident and in no way a felony. We understand that he has settled with the parents of the boys to their satisfaction. Seems as tho he had been punished enough already. LaRoque is considered a good citizen in his home community.

Other cases on the calendar were disposed of as follows:

Everet Reid, larceny, plead guilty. Sentenced to from one to five years in Ionia prison, with recommendation of one year. Reid was charged with the larceny of a check drawn in favor of Mrs. Newell James, which he cashed and later skipped to Florida. The check was for $150.00. That occurred in Feb., 1928; he was apprehended last August. The case against Margaret Reid is a part of the above case against her husband. She too plead guilty and was placed under two years probation by the court.

The case of the City Fuel Co., Bay City, vs. Grayling Mfg. Co., et al, was settled out of court and dismissed.

Hazel D. vs. Albert J. Vallad, divorce. Decree to be granted at the next term when the amount of permanent alimony will be established. Temporary alimony of $20 per month will continue in the meantime.

William vs. Viola Ellis, divorce. Decree granted.

Edith F. vs. Walter J. LaMotte, divorce granted.

Antoni Dombrowski vs. Village of Grayling, injunction. Defendant ordered to pay $25 costs, which amount is to apply on the cost of restoring the Joe Smith sewer to its original

FOX AND OWLS BIG ATTRACTION

HANSON HARDWARE SHOWING WILD LIFE IN DISPLAY WINDOWS

The Hanson Hardware Co. are displaying this week in their window one of the most interesting and perhaps the most valuable collection of red fox that has ever been shown in Crawford Co. There are eighteen of these my creatures strung across the back of the window. They are quite uniform in size with long heavy fur.

The collection is valued at four hundred dollars and is half of the catch which was made by Dan Stephan and Clare Madison who are connoisseurs in this line.

Other attractions in the same window are two beautiful brown owls—male and female—and probably they are as fine specimens as have ever been seen anywhere. They were caught by the same parties in the fox traps. There is also on display a porcupine which was gotten by Chas. Fehr.

The collection is very cleverly displayed with hunting outfits, ammunition, etc., which is a credit to Mgr. Harold McNeven of the Hanson Hardware Co.

Mr. McNeven says no less than two thousand people have stopped to see the collection and they are continuing to crowd the window to watch the antics of those wild birds.

It is the present plan to give the owls, either to a zoo or to a museum. Probably to the former which will be fortunate to possess such a fine pair of birds.

"Look Before You Leap."

Investigate Before You "Sign Up" With An Out-of-Town Roofer

Save Money When You Buy a New Roof

Here's a Simple yet Sure Way to Do It:

When a salesman or solicitor representing some unknown or out-of-town roofing company comes to your door to talk to you about putting on a new roof, don't be fooled into signing a contract right away. Don't sign anything right away, for if you do you will probably get "stung."

In fairness to yourself, have the salesman submit a written bid for the work, have him specify the number of squares that are required to cover your roof, have him specify the style of roofing he proposes to use and last but not least, have him submit a sample containing at least two square feet of the material he intends to use. Then have the salesman sign the bid, but DON'T YOU sign it.

Tell the salesman to come back four or five days later and in the meantime secure bids from the local lumber dealer for the same kind of material. Nine times out of ten you will find that the local lumber dealer will give you a better job of better material at a price 25% to 50% lower than the price offered by the out-of-town roofing salesman.

BE SAFE. DON'T SIGN RIGHT AWAY. If the salesman is sincere and honest he will be glad to submit a bid and leave a sample with you. But, if he tries to talk you into signing right away and tries to give some excuse saying he won't be able to come back later—then he is the man you want to avoid.

*Note: Slick roofing salesmen have been fooling the public and selling Diamond Point Roll Roofing as Shingles which is not a Shingle at all. There's a big difference between roll roofing and shingles that your lumber dealer will explain.

GRAYLING SCHOOLS STAND HIGH IN STATE ATHLETICS

The year book of the Michigan High School Athletics association contains some reports that are very interesting to Grayling people.

The financial report of 1930 District Basketball tournament shows that only nine schools rate above Grayling in the amount of gross receipts taken in at the games. Hastings schools were the only ones which had a larger attendance than our own at the tournament games.

Under Sportsmanship and administration of Athletics in the state high schools, a comparison of sportsmanship among the schools of the state was made. At the conclusion of the football and basketball season last year blanks were sent out to officials in these sports and they have rated the schools concerned.

The ratings were: (1) excellent; (2) good; (3) average; (4) below average; (5) very poor.

Under the head of Administration, the items of correspondence, punctuality, game preparation and control of players and spectators were included. Sportsmanship was considered in respect to coaches, school officials, players and spectators.

No attempt has been made as yet to place schools in various classifications as the result of ratings, but a list of honor schools was given. Only those schools whose average rating in administration and sportsmanship is 1.5 or less and who have been rated by at least two approved officials have been considered.

Under Basketball we find Grayling schools on the honor list and we are proud to bring this excellent record to the attention of the Grayling citizens.

PROPOSED GAME LAW CHANGES

Announcement of a definite conservation program to be introduced in the next session of the legislature was made at a meeting of the Michigan Conservation Congress, held in Detroit this week, attended by representatives of 14 sportsmen's clubs from the Lower Peninsula.

The program proposed would be financed out of the $500,000 annual receipts from hunting and fishing licenses. A new statewide reforestation plan and introduction and protection of wild turkey are among the proposals planned to be made.

The congress recommended that the open season on all small game, including migratory birds, be started on October 15. Other recommendations included:

Payment of fines for violation of the game laws into the game and fish protective fund instead of the library fund.

Closing the season on opossum until 1933.

Legalizing the spearing of fish only in January and February.

Utilizing portions of the hunting license fees for the purchase and maintenance of game refuges and public hunting grounds.

Equalizing the season and bag limits on private and public hunting and fishing preserves among all persons.

Prohibiting commercial clam fishing because of the damage to spawning grounds.

Prohibiting the harboring of ferrets.

of equal opportunity and the domination of tyranny through bureaucracy.

THIS is the favorite season for national conventions, and some of the most important last week heard and considered some vital propositions. Delegates to the A. F. of L. meeting received the report of their executive council dealing with means for alleviation and removal of unemployment causes and with effort to carry forward attainment of political objectives of unions; with the campaign to unionize the South, and specific details of national policy toward immigration; judicial action in industrial disputes, and the approach of more intimate industrial association with enterprise and organization of other countries. President William Green dwelt especially on the campaign for the five-day week. Among the resolutions submitted was one for change in the federal prohibition policy from modification to repeal.

Another asked the federation to support unemployment insurance legislation.

Before the National Association of Manufacturers, in session in New York, President John E. Edgerton of Tennessee proclaimed the "unashamed resistance of organized industry" to governmental pensions for the aged, insurance for the unemployed and similar legislation. He declared nothing has happened to weaken the confidence of understanding in the soundness of the American economic system or scheme of government.

James A. Emery, general counsel for the association, upheld lobbying for and against legislation as a private right and a public duty. He sounded a warning that public expenditures, unless checked, soon will consume one-fifth of the national income.

FOLLOWING the lead of their fellow Latin-Americans in other countries, Brazilians took up the revolutionary movement, seeking to overthrow the government of President Washington Luis and to prevent the inauguration of President Melet Julio Prestes. They asserted Prestes was elected by fraud and that new elections must be held. Such rapid progress was made by the revolutionists that their complete success may be a matter of time before this is read.

On the other hand, the federal government declared the revolt would be suppressed. The rebellion started almost simultaneously in several of the most important states, notably Rio Grande do Sul, Parana, Minas Geraes and Pernambuco. By the middle of the week the important city of Pernambuco had been captured by the revolutionists after two days of fighting, and large armies were converging on Sao Paulo, center of the vast coffee-growing region. Numerous smaller cities and towns were occupied without bloodshed.

Of course the rebels were not having their own way everywhere, for the federal armies and the navy were active, and two classes of reservists were called out. Measures were taken to protect Rio de Janeiro from attack. It was feared the food problem in the capital city might become serious.

GREAT BRITAIN'S hope to revive her declining trade by the institution of free trade within the empire was definitely shelved in the imperial conference. After J. H. Thomas, dominions secretary, had given the facts and figures of England's distress and asked if something could not be done about it, the representatives of one dominion after another arose and declared in effect that they would give up the protection of their own industries for the sake of Great Britain. All of them, however, expressed hope that Great Britain would buy more of their agricultural products, and there were covert suggestions of a British tariff on foreign food, against which the present British government is pledged. Premier Bennett of Canada voiced what seemed to be the general opinion of the dominions when he said: "In our opinion empire free trade is neither desirable nor possible."

ENGLAND'S huge dirigible, R-101, exploded near Beauvais, France, soon after its start for India, and 48 men perished, only seven of those aboard surviving the disaster. Among the victims were Lord Thomson, minister of air; Sir W. Sefton Branker, director of civil aviation, and many other leading air experts and airmen. The ship was flying low through a dark, stormy night and apparently dipped so far that it struck a hill. The bag ripped and sparks from the motors set off the inflammable hydrogen gas.

Following a day of official mourning in France decreed by the government, the bodies of the dead were taken to London and placed in state in Westminster hall. A solemn national funeral service was held and the remains were then interred in a common grave at Cardington, the home port of the ill-fated dirigible.

Most of the fatalities in this disaster were due doubtless to the use of hydrogen gas in the bag. Helium gas, which is used in American dirigibles, is not inflammable; but the United States has the only unlimited supply of that gas and its export is forbidden by law. It is likely this ban will be removed by the next congress.

One of the few Lufthansa passenger planes of Germany was caught in a violent squall at Dresden and was dashed to earth. Six passengers, the pilot and the mechanic were killed.

CHICAGO'S underworld "yelled a last one" the other evening which caused Police Commissioner Alcock and his men much embarrassment. Some thugs held up the apmobile of Mrs. Thompson, wife of the mayor, at the door of her residence and took all the jewelry the lady was wearing as well as the gun of her policeman chauffeur. It may have been sheer bravado or, as the police suggest, a frame-up to have Alcock ousted so that a man more lenient to organized crime in Chicago might have his place.

The campaign to jail the Chicago master criminals or drive them from the city is progressing slowly and not so surely. Several of the worst gangsters have been arrested on vagrancy charges and held in heavy bonds; but unscrupulous lawyers and magistrates who are over-observant of technicalities may frustrate the best efforts of the crusaders.

BY A resolution adopted by the National Poultry, Butter and Egg association in annual convention in Chicago, an organized attack was started on the federal agricultural marketing act.

The resolution "calls upon and implores the leaders of representative units of this industry to lay aside all other considerations and join a movement to perfect an organization with prestige and power enough to carry on a determined fight against the marketing act and any other 'radical' legislation in general and that affecting our own industry in particular."

The officers of the association, whose industry is estimated by them to approximate a volume of a billion dollars annually, are instructed by the resolution to "accept it as a mandate to proceed with all possible force and dispatch."

All Accorded Honor in Scottish War Memorial

No one seems to be forgotten in Scotland's wonderful war memorial which is built on the rock of Edinburgh.

There it stands glowing with the carved and colored badges of every Scottish regiment that served in the world war, while in bronze friezes or stained-glass windows, sailors, artillerymen, airmen, chaplains, nurses and other workers are depicted. Even birds and beasts have their memorials.

Carved on the walls are the words "Remember also the humble beasts that served and died." Then come medallions framing the heads of a horse, a mule, a camel, a messuage dog, and other animals, with a cage of carrier pigeons and a group of canaries and mice inscribed. "The tunnelers' friends," because these little creatures are used underground, where their swift collapse when the air becomes poisonous is a warning to men.

In the shrine is a block of marble set on the rock which rises through the floor, and on this block is a casket given by the king and queen inclosing books containing the name of every Scotsman who fell in the war. It is a place of pilgrimage to Scotsmen all over the world, this holy place where the noblest heroes and the humblest creatures are all remembered together.

Daughter's Temper Not Improved by Education

The Church of England high school for girls at Hafia, Palestine, is attended by Moslems, Jews and Bahai, together with Armenians, English and Greek Orthodox Christians. The school believes that all forms of education should rest on the solid foundation of religion. Scripture is given first place in the school curriculum. The rule is that all must assemble in the early morning to ask God's blessing on the work of the day. Parents expect a great deal from this school. "Have I not already paid fifty piastres for Hannah's education," said an irate Arab father one morning, "and have I not told you that all this money was not spent only that my daughter may be clever in history and geography but that she should learn first of all to be a good girl? How can you defend yourself, for Hannah has already been two weeks in your school and yet she is still a little she-Satan at home?" Exchange.

For Marital Success

If two people are congenial in tastes, have mutual interests, and apply to their home making and marriage contract half of the principles of good business that they do to outside interests, success in most cases is assured. Troubles may come—and they do to every couple—but people seem equal to these real emergencies. It's the straw that breaks the camel's back, you know, and it's the little things of life that count for the most. Little courtesies must be remembered and each party should endeavor to be a good sport and play fair. A woman who nags is never a beloved woman, and the man who has a perpetual grouch becomes a person to be endured. Affection may be strong but it seldom survives constant criticism, indifference and carelessness of personal appearance.—Rachel Ann Neiswender in Household Magazine.

NASH

Announces

3 new EIGHTS and a new SIX

NEVER was such motor car quality offered at prices so sensationally low. The literally startling difference becomes at once apparent when you contrast the prices of the new and finer Nash series, with prices of corresponding models a year ago.

Its low non-productive overhead, its elimination of borrowed capital, and remarkably foresighted manufacturing alone enable Nash to offer so much for so little.

The unique example in value-giving thus provided the industry was planned last November. At that time, C. W. Nash and the strong group of executives surrounding him, clearly foresaw present conditions. They at once began to design cars affording value so great, so unmistakable, as to overcome all buying reluctance.

The result is instantly apparent. Even casual inspection of the four new Nash cars establishes the fact that nothing even remotely approaching them in downright dollar value has ever been available in their respective price fields.

SENSATIONALLY PRICED!

STUDY THESE SENSATIONAL PRICES!
Compare what is probably the most remarkable achievement of Nash in greater value-giving—the New Six—with the Single Six it succeeds. The new Six offers a multitude of superiorities at prices which range from $100 to $140 below the prices of the Single Six.
Body Style	The New Six W. B. 1140"	Last Year's Six W. B. 1140"	Price Difference
Sedan (4-door)	$845	$1005	—$160

Coupe (rumble seat)	$825	$960	—$135
Sedan (2-door)	$795	$935	—$140
Compare the New Eight-70 with its two additional cylinders, its longer wheelbase, its larger, more luxurious body, with the six-cylinder car it replaces. Then consider the remarkable fact that there is actually a basic price differential in favor of the New Eight!

The Calais police station is located in the basement of the City building, with its barred windows facing the sidewalk that leads to the rear.

A business man happened to be walking past one of the windows, where a sailor, who had been imbibing too freely was confined. He was hailed with the salutation, "Hey, Buddy! Give us a match!"

"Sure," replied the business man, who handed him one and started away.

"Hey, Buddy, this match won't scratch; it hasn't any head. Just like me. If I had a head I wouldn't be in here."—Boston Globe.

Pope Guided by Council

The pope of Rome personally does not annul or dissolve a marriage. When there is petition for the annulment of a marriage in the Roman Catholic church or in which a Roman Catholic is involved on the ground of fraud, want of age, want of consent or other valid reason, the matter is considered by the Rota, a supreme council of the Roman Catholic church, which declares its findings and the pope makes a declaration in accordance with such findings.

The term "papershell" has been extended in its application to persons until it is now practically without significance. Originally applied to those types of persons having such titles that one could be easily cracked when two were crushed together. In one hand, the term during recent years has been made to include all cultivated varieties of many of which have fully as solid shells as the average wild man.

Henry Jordan probably has one of the finest vegetable gardens in town, and he spends a lot of valuable time to make it such. The other morning he was awakened by a neighbor telling him that there were cows in his garden and arising he found that they had consumed several heads of cabbage and other vegetables. The same cows also got into Mrs. George Burke's garden and trampled down a number of her choice rose bushes and other plants.

Vegetation seems to be taking on new life in this vicinity, caused no doubt by the warm days and heavy dews we are experiencing, which are so unusual for this time of the year. People roaming through the woods have brought home twigs of bushes that are sprouting anew, and some have reported having seen dandelions in bloom. It appears like a second spring season.

STATE BUYS LANDS FOR REFUGEES

Game refuges and public hunting lands in both peninsulas totalling 54,880.37 acres will be purchased by the Department of Conservation at a cost of $166,953.33.

Of these lands, 32,224.59 acres are located in Schoolcraft and Alger counties and include what is known as the Cusino Swamp and adjacent high lands; and 2,655.78 acres are located in or near the Montmorency Game Refuge.

The Conservation Commission at its October meeting approved the actual purchase of these areas, which have been held under options for some time.

Formal approval of the Cusino project was given by the Commission two months ago. This month's action was to cover the formal purchase of the lands.

The Cusino area is one of the best known deer yards in Michigan. It will be developed into a game refuge to be surrounded by public hunting lands. The property was purchased from ten individual owners after the Game and Lands Division of the Department had spent many months studying the territory, preparing map and appraising values. With the purchase price at $155,261.43 for the entire area the average cost per acre is $4.55, of which a considerable part covers merchantable cedar and other timber. In addition to the land now being purchased the Department will add 1,110.67 acres of land already owned by the state.

The 2,655 acres to be purchased to add to the Montmorency project known as the Lunden Game Refuge, will be used to increase the area of the refuge and to block up the surrounding public hunting grounds. This land was purchased for $10,391 or an average of $3.91 an acre, this being materially less than the valuations as assessed for taxation.

TOP O'MICH. POTATO AND APPLE SHOW

While the hundreds of exhibits of potatoes and apples have been the main attraction at the Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord, October 29 to 31, those persons planning on attending this year should arrange to attend the lectures and discussions.

The first meeting is on Wednesday noon when the certified seed growers of the Top O'Michigan will attend a luncheon. Speakers at this luncheon will be J. R. Livermore of New York State, H. C. Moore of Michigan State College, and Guy Eppler, Master Potato Grower of 1929.

Immediately following this program the regular afternoon program will be held when an opportunity will be given the potato growers to hear O. F. Jensen of the National Fertilizer Association and I. J. Mathews of the Potash Importing Corporation discuss potato fertilization. Apple growers will have a chance to hear D. H. Hootman, Horticulturist of the Michigan State College.

On Thursday afternoon, R. Wayne Newton of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, Burt Wernuth, Editor of the Michigan Farmer, and R. J. Baldwin, Director of Extension of the Michigan State College will talk.

A special potato dealers meeting is also scheduled to follow this afternoon program.

The junior folk will have a luncheon program on Thursday noon to be addressed by Professor Carl Spittler of Petoskey. Club winners will also be announced at this time.

The women's program in charge of Glenna McCrory of Alpena will be held Thursday afternoon. Miss Edith Smith in charge of Home Economics at Michigan State College will be the main speaker.

Then, the main event of the day (Thursday) the banquet at 6:30 p. m. Al Weber, editor of the Cheboygan Observer, will be Master of Ceremonies which will include music, singing, talks and announcement of awards. Don't fail to take in the Thursday program, including the banquet.

On Friday morning at ten o'clock, the annual Top O'Michigan Town and Country Choir Singing Contest will be held. There will be two to three hours of good singing at this contest.

The Eighth annual show will close at three o'clock on Friday afternoon. All features of the Show will be held at the newly constructed 4-H Club Camp just north of Gaylord city limits except the singing contest which will be held at the Gaylord Auditorium across from the Court House.

A big time is being planned by the management. Every farmer in the Top O'Michigan, whether a potato or apple grower or not should plan to attend at least one day; many people take in all three days.

RAYMOND DELLAIRE WAS RESIDENT OF THIS COUNTY 51 YEARS

Raymond Delaire, who passed away at his farm home in Maple Forest township, Wednesday, October 8, was one of the pioneer residents of this county. Born in Canada, October 2, 1855, he came to this part of the country in 1879. For many years he worked in the lumber woods, for Salling Hanson company as did most of the men of that time, that being the chief industry. After lands were cleared many indulged in farming and in about 1905 he and his brother Dolphus purchased a homestead in Maple Forest containing 40 acres, where they had made their home since. About three years ago Louis Delaire joined them, following the passing of his wife, and so the three brothers had worked together until Raymond's health began to fail him. On the Friday previous to his death he suffered a stroke of paralysis, growing more feeble each day until he passed away.

The funeral of the deceased was held at St. Leo's church, Frederic, last Friday morning, Rev. J. L. Culligan celebrating the mass. Interment was in the Frederic cemetery. There was a large congregation of old neighbors and friends in attendance at the last rites of the old gentleman.

Surviving the deceased are four brothers and one sister, Louis and Adolphus of Maple Forest, Joseph and August of Bay City and Mrs. Mary Louise Proulx of Canada.

WHY THE TRAFFIC LIGHTS?

The driving public of the country is strenuously voicing its objections to being delayed by red lights at intersections that have little or no cross traffic. A wave of resentment is sweeping the country on account of this needless delay. It is not only a question of annoyance, the loss of time and money is also a tremendous factor.

Surveys, made by nationally known traffic authorities at hundreds of intersections, show a loss of thousands of dollars annually caused by needless delay and congestion at arbitrarily timed traffic signals. These signals, erected by boroughs and townships along the state highways have been more of a hindrance than a help. The original intention of signal lights was to protect busy intersections where there was heavy traffic on the cross streets as well as on the thoroughfare. But many small towns and boroughs erected signals at intersections where traffic conditions did not warrant their installation. This led to so much needless delay that state highway departments were forced to interfere. Massachusetts, Connecticut, Ohio, California and Pennsylvania have eliminated and are eliminating many of the useless traffic lights upon the state highway. Pennsylvania alone has condemned 400 signals that were needlessly stopping traffic on the state highways.

Many of the towns and villages affected by this new ruling are protesting the condemnation of these signals, but the weight of public sentiment is against them, and will continue to be against them as long as they operate signals which delay traffic unnecessarily.

A Troubled World
The Dean's for Eugenics
What Ails Us All
Power Unlimited?

There is serious revolution in Brazil, Pernambuco taken by the rebels, according to report.

In the Argentine rioting leaders are executed.

In China 75,000 "Reds" attack Kiangsu province.

Alled and peaceful south Germany is rocked by earthquake. Raphael's beautiful Madonna in Munich, with the exquisite little cherubs looking upward, must have felt the quake, but fortunately was not injured.

It is a strange, agitated, restless, dissatisfied world.

Dean Inge of St. Paul's cathedral in London, most important clergyman, warns his fellows in the church that they must not "ignore the eugenists," namely those interested in producing better children.

Nature does not know anything, according to the dean. We have scientific knowledge, and if we don't use it, that is "counted to us for a sin."

The dean even takes an interest in the theory that a woman should be allowed to regulate the size of her family.

There is something in the statement that nature doesn't always function perfectly. Of the first two brothers born on earth by nature's process, Cain and Abel, one killed the other.

When you are ill it is well to know what is the matter. Business is ill, with an illness that affects millions of unemployed, as illness of the body affects billions of cells.

Mr. L. Greenfield, of Santa Barbara, diagnosing, finds the following list of symptoms:

1. Over-speculation.
2. Fear.
3. Loss of confidence in our financial system.
4. Very low and cautious circulation of money.
5. Increase of unemployment by big business methods of "economy."
6. False statements of the country's condition.

What would you add to these symptoms? There is something the matter that nobody understands. This country fortunately will cure itself this time as it has cured itself often before.

Experiments in Cuba by Georges Claude, French scientist, may mean more to the world than all the wars, and most of the inventions, since Napoleon died.

Taking advantage of difference in temperature between surface and deep water in the gulf, Professor Claude has succeeded in supplying power to light 40 500-watt electric lamps.

This means actually utilizing the power of the sun. When that is finally accomplished the human race will possess power unlimited, and will do whatever it can imagine.

Mother Britannia begins to realize that her dominion sons are children no longer, and agrees, on demand of the Irish Free State, that the high court of any dominion shall render final decisions. Any dominion that chooses may abolish the right of its citizens to appeal to Britain's privy council against her own Supreme court.

It is said the British never repeal a law, but let it die of its own accord. The British rule that a man may beat his wife with a stick no bigger around than his thumb remained long after such beatings had lost public approval.

One scientist, dashing the idea of making money, said when announcing an important discovery: "Thank heaven, it cannot have any practical use." Probably he was mistaken.

Paresis, a disease of the mind, that had always ended fatally, is now treated successfully by radio.

The "curing machine" is a small radio station. Its energy is localized between two plates. The patient sits between them, and the radio impulses pass through him, creating a high fever.

It is a pleasure to read in President Hoover's address to the American Legion:

"We must sustain a preparedness for defense that is impregnable, yet that contains no threat of aggression. There is no threat of aggression in being prepared. The history of this country proves that it will not engage in the piracy of war unless forced to do so."

American Mercury, N. Y. Times To Publish Michigan Tales

James Stevens, nationally famous writer, who is a recent newcomer to Bay City, has just sold to The American Mercury magazine a story of Joe Fourrier, the pioneer lumberjack of the old-timers about here tell it. "The story is not a record of fact, necessarily," said Mr. Stevens in the office a few days ago. "For the stories are so many about Joe Fourrier that he has become almost a mythical character. I have built my story out of the many that have been told to me." "King Pine," an article on the Huron National Forest, also by Mr. Stevens, is soon to be published.

Illustrated by the New York Times Sunday Magazine. Lumberman Memorial Picture Gets Wide Attention

Photographs of the accepted model of the memorial to the pioneer Michigan lumberman have been received with evident enthusiasm by newspaper editors. Of the two dozen sent out from this office in the past two weeks, practically all have been given publication.

Campers, As Well As Resorters Leave Money In State

As one example of how campers spend money on vacations in Michigan: three Detroiters camped at Higgins Lake State Park during the past summer, from Saturday to Wednesday. For their expenses in the camp, they spent $15 in that time. And that didn't include their tent which was purchased at Crowley-Miller's in Detroit or all the accessories for the outing which were bought partly in Detroit and partly at towns along the way. Since Horace Failing, caretaker of the park, reports that 1,409 camping parties made use of the park and its facilities this past season, you can make some computations. Figuring that the parties stayed on an average of one week each, at one dollar per person per day, which is low, according to caretakers, the parties averaging three in number, which is also low, tourists spent $280,000 in Higgins Lake State Park alone! And this is just one of the hundreds of vacation spots popular in our territory.
